About Rob:

With over a decade of experience behind the camera, Rob Mitchell is a seasoned Digital Imaging Technician (DIT) whose expertise spans across notable platforms such as the BBC, ITV, Netflix, Amazon, and HBO. His broad skill set not only covers comprehensive DOP support and data management but extends into the realms of directing, post-production, and cinematography. With a keen eye for emerging AI technologies, Rob is adept at enhancing visual storytelling through meticulous color management and efficient dailies workflows.

Professional Objectives:

Rob aims to streamline and secure data management processes, providing robust technical support to Directors of Photography. His focus is on preserving the artistic vision from onset capture through to post-production, ensuring the final output resonates with the creative intent of the project.
